SOUTHWEST HIGH SCHOOL

FORT WORTH, TEXAS

SOUTHWEST HIGH

Southwest High School was once a dream. It is now a reality. The building, once void of life, throbs with the activity of spirited Rebels. All Rebels have pride in their unique building and campus. This is the beginning of standards, traditions, and friendships. This is the beginning of Southwest.

AND ALSO FOLLOWERS

The Rebel spirit of Southwest has made our school outstanding and made us proud. In Southwest's first year we have established traditions and standards that will be followed for years to come. As students and faculty we have patiently overcome adverse conditions. As Juniors and Sophomores we have worked together for school unity. As athletes we have brought honor to ourselves and to our school. In the following pages is the story of Southwest.

Among the numerous purposes of an efficient faculty, there is presented the challenge to convey a desire to learn. There is the task of communicating the truth without prejudices. Here at Southwest, the teachers and administrators have accepted their responsibilities with unceasing dedication and enthusiasm and they have proven themselves to be a superior—

SCHOOL DAZE

IN YOUR HEART YOU KNOW THEY'RE RIGHT

Responsibility of the voters, as well as those elected, is essential to the progress of any group, whether a nation or a high school. In the 1967-68 school year, the students of SHS showed their responsibility by choosing the school's mascot and colors, and electing the cheerleaders and officers of Rebel Land '68.

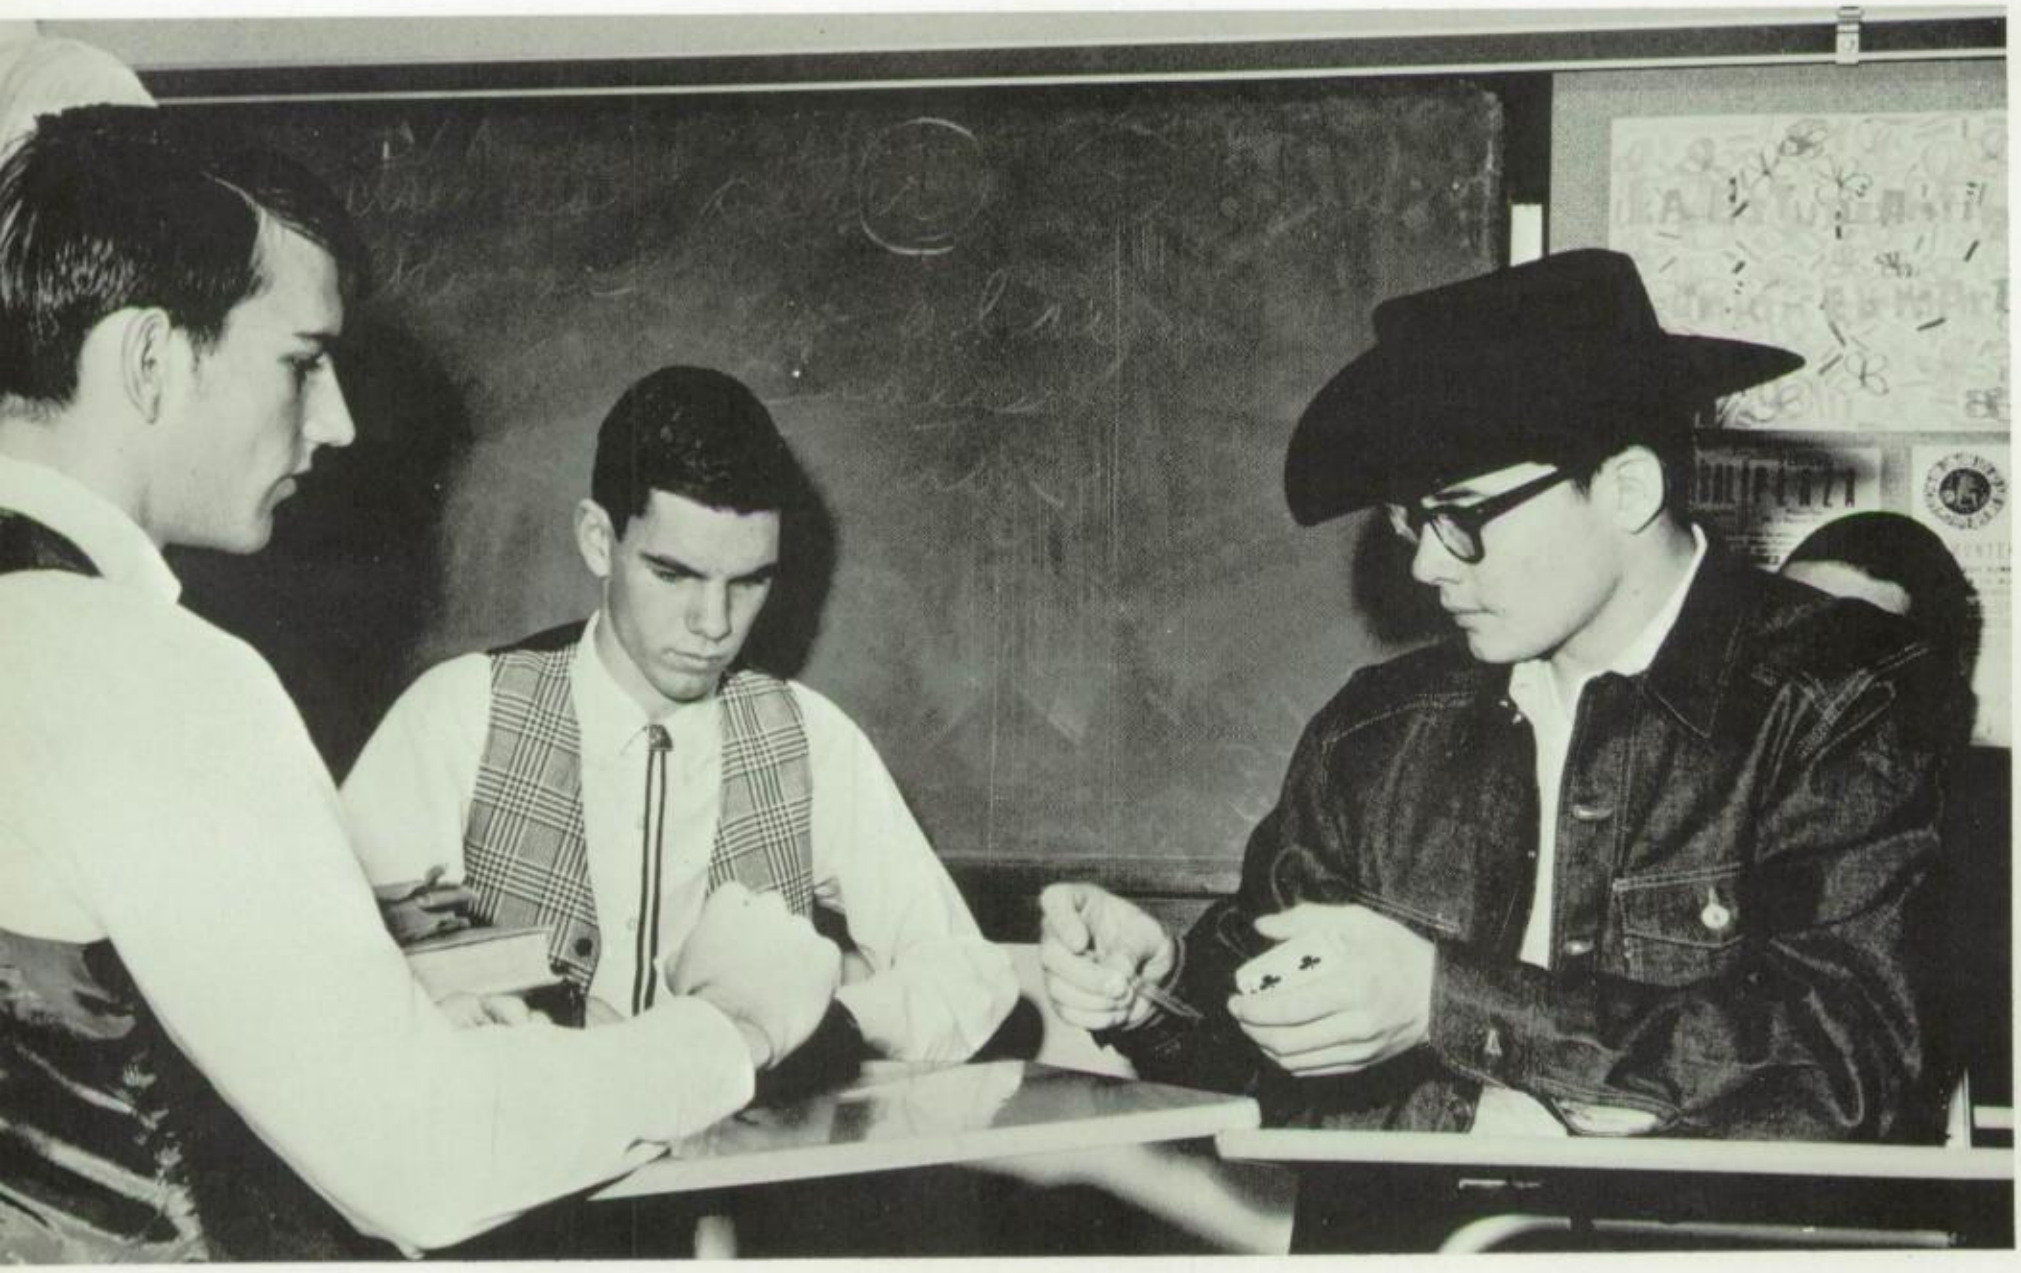
COW POKES SAUNTER THROUGH SOUTHWEST.

The sight of cattle across the street from our school reminds us that we are truly in the west. Although we are called the Rebels we like to live the heritage of the West at least one day of the year.



BACKWARDS BASH

The more outgoing girls asked the shyer boys to Southwest's first annual Backwards Bash. The dance was held to raise money for the student council, and many students showed up in support of the project. The 1st Backwards dance of Southwest High School was termed a success.

Custodians helped in the moving process.

Always proud to show off our school, Rebels enjoyed escorting guests through the halls for open house. The school was not yet finished, and our visitors were required to stumble over workmen and equipment. Despite these inconveniences, guests were impressed with the school. Mr. Kudlaty said, "Our kids don't mind the inconveniences, and so you shouldn't."

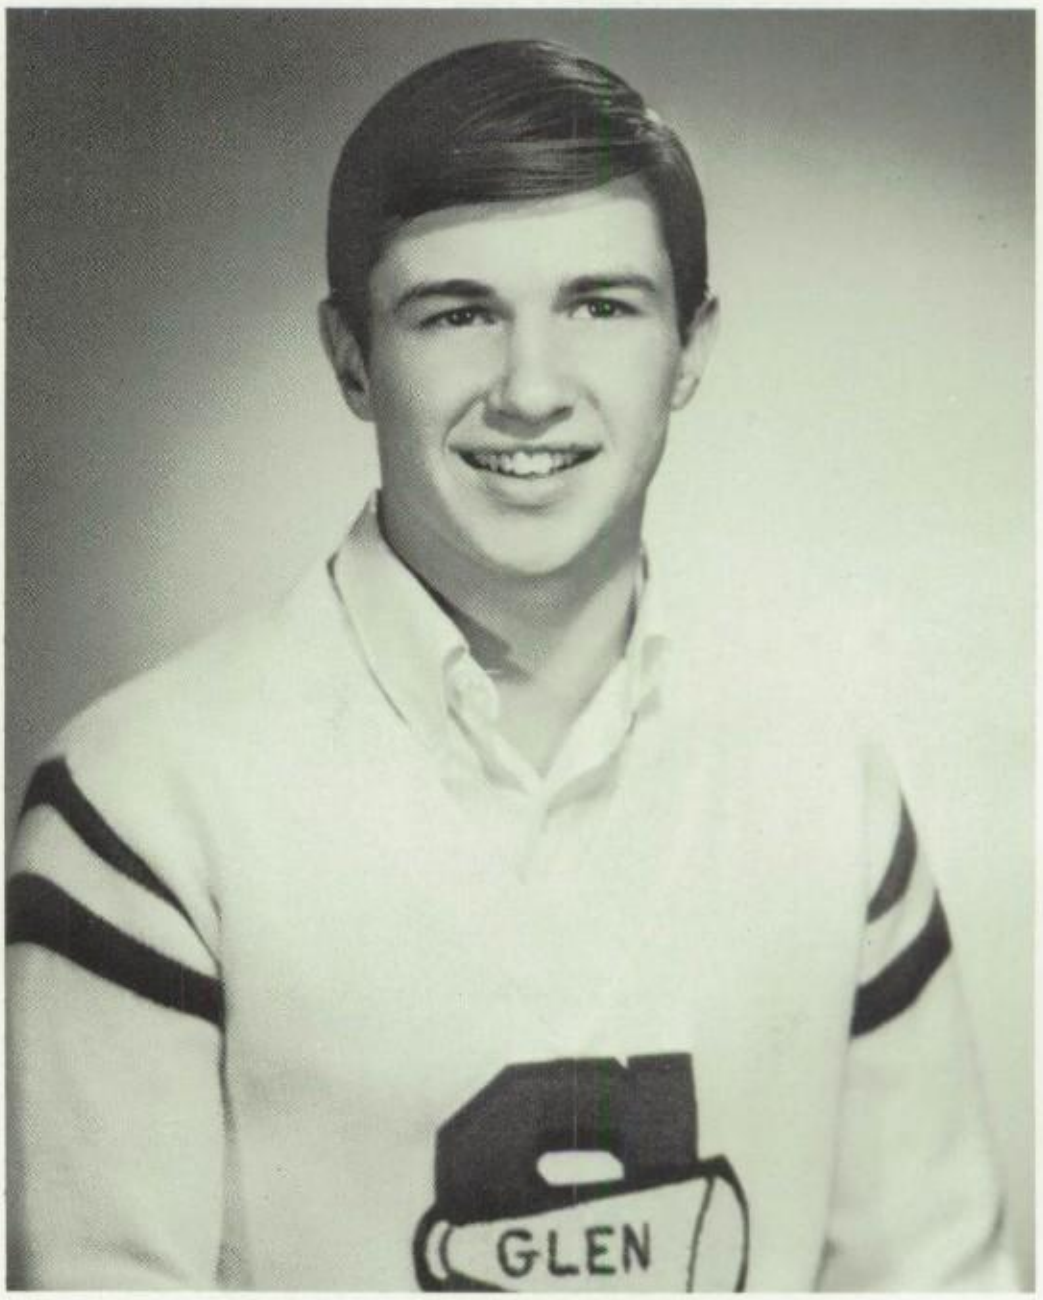
JUNIORS SELECT FAVORITES

Susie Miller's vivacious personality and her warm smile are only a few reasons why she was chosen as Junior Favorite. She keeps her grades well above average and is an outstanding student as well as cheerleader. With Susie's outgoing personality, it is no wonder that her fellow students chose her to be their representative of the Junior Class.

Glen Wilson, Junior Favorite is one of the most highly school spirited students of Southwest. As cheerleader he is able to uphold this spirit at athletic games as well as in the halls with his friendly grin and a warm "hello" to everyone. He strives to keep school standards high and excels in his studies.

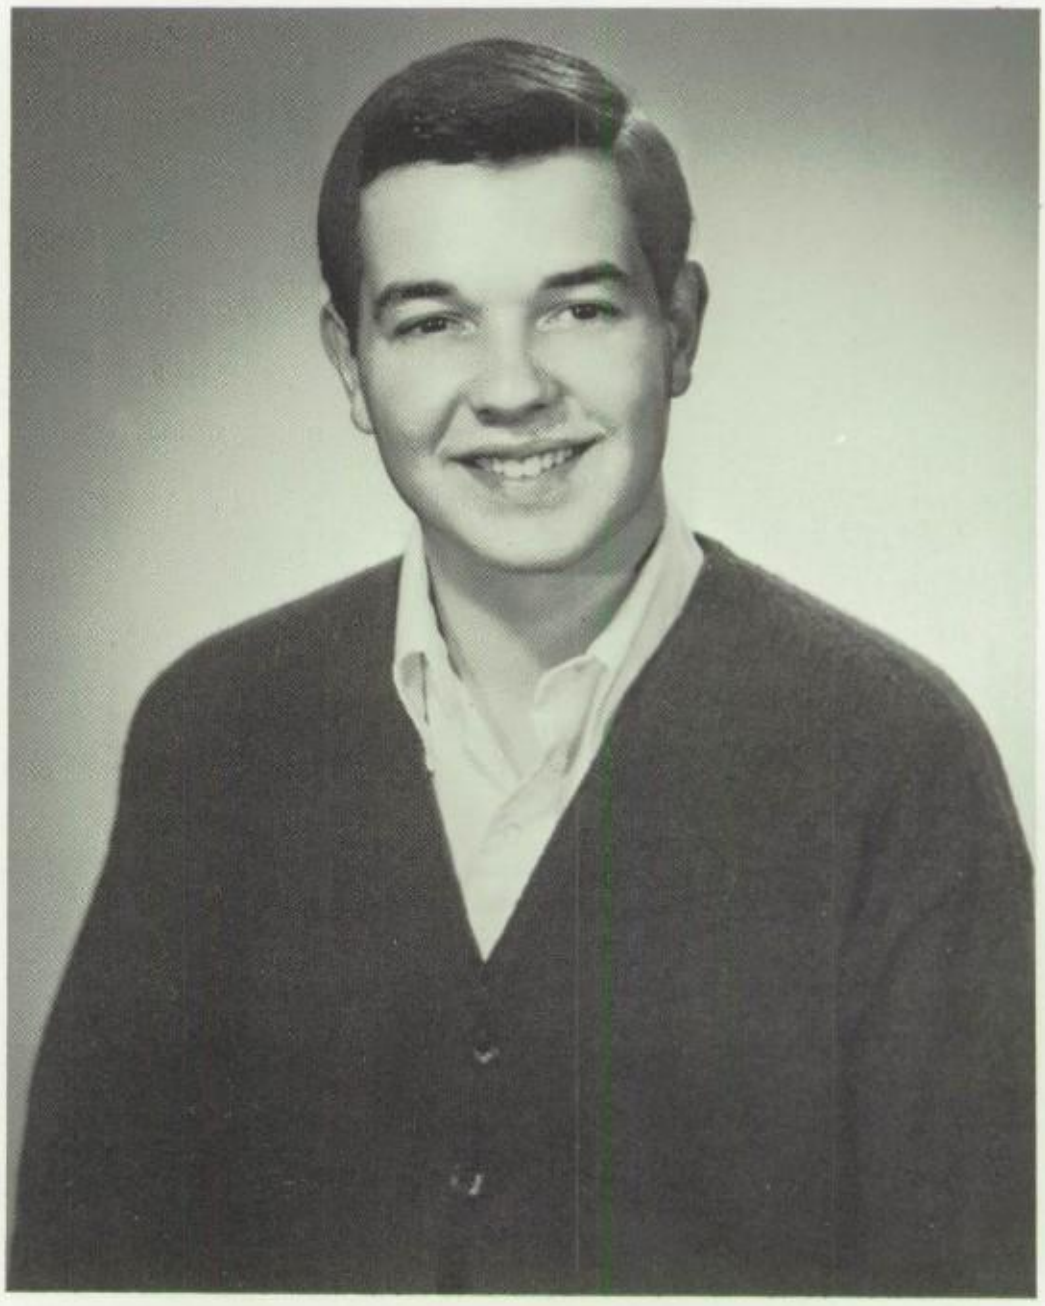


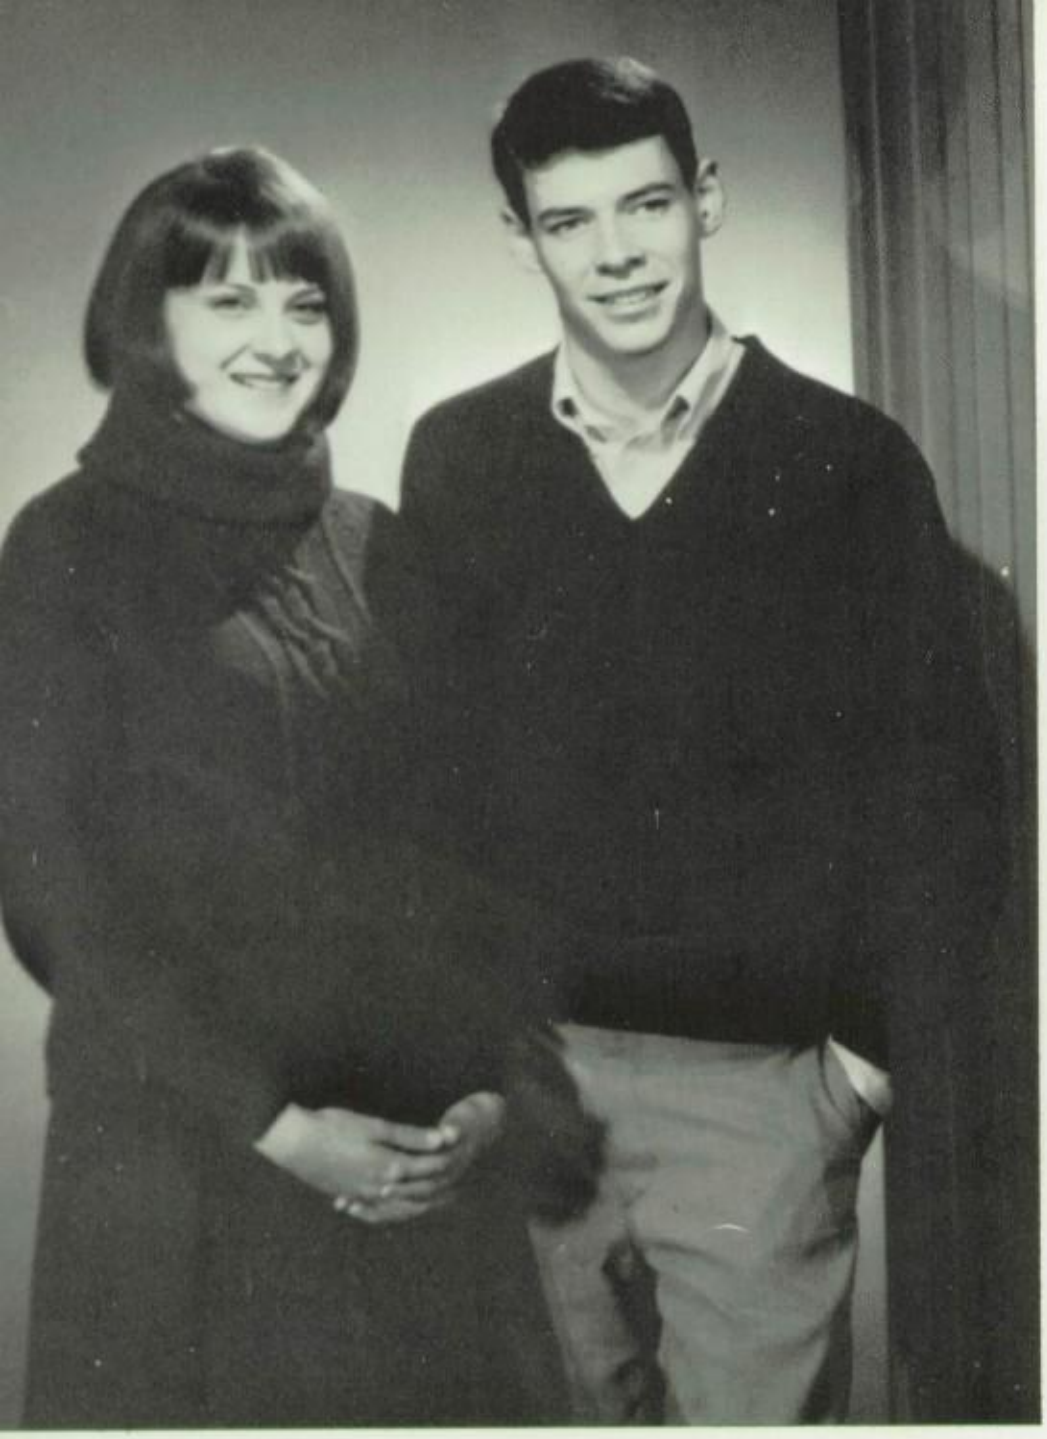
MARY NORTHCOTT and HANK BILLMAN

SOPHOMORES SELECT FAVORITES

Mary Northcott was voted Sophomore Favorite by her friends and classmates. As a cheerleader, Mary is a leader at pep rallies, games and in many phases of Rebel life. Mary's witty personality and her willingness to try something new make her a favorite with all who know her. She exemplifies the Rebel Spirit with great enthusiasm.

Hank Billman was chosen by his fellow peers as Sophomore Favorite. Hank is well liked by all because of his sincere personality and friendly smile. Hank is always behind Southwest in every function with plenty of Rebel Spirit. Serving Southwest as Student Body Treasurer is another honor given to Hank this year.





FAVORITE FINALISTS

JUNIOR

Kay Brown is interested in many facets of school life. She is Secretary of the Student Body, Editor of the annual, maintains excellent grades as well as being a sincere friendly person.

The keen sense of humor and outstanding personality of Clifford Ellis makes him students choice for Favorite Finalist. He is Student Body Vice President and enters into all activities of Southwest.

Truly a lovely person to look at as well as to be around is Pam Wafer. Her quiet lady like manner is well known to teachers and students alike.

Guy Carter is an outstanding athlete and abounds in school spirit. He has the ability with his charming smile to win the approval of all who meet him.

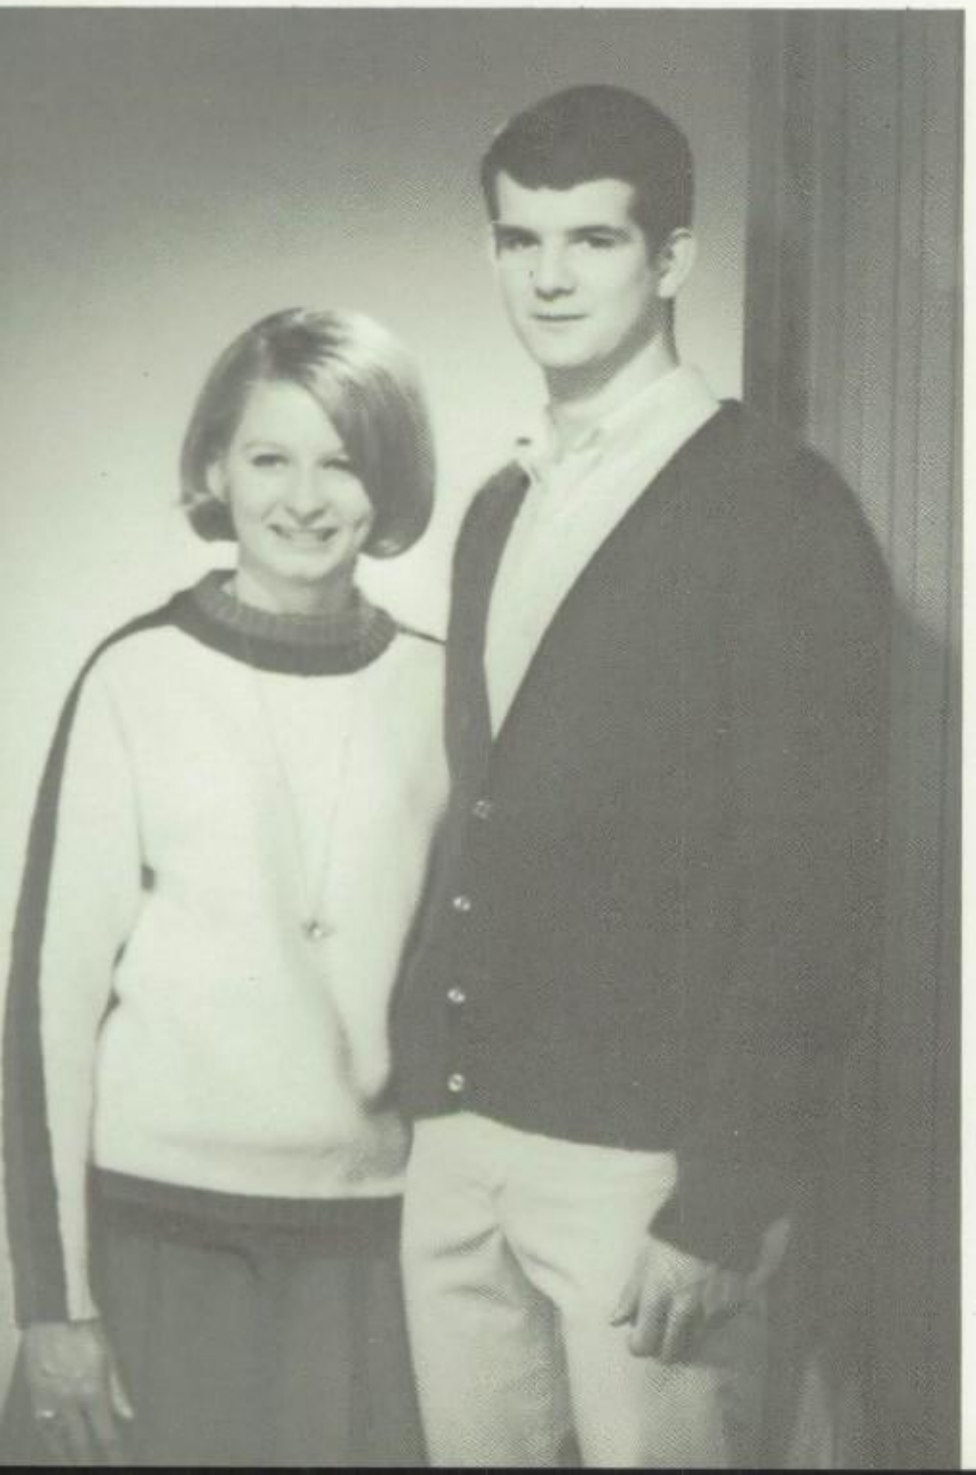
SOPHOMORE

The vivacious laugh of Judy Herweg is enough to make everyone like her. She has an abundance of school spirit which she uses at pep rallies and games as she serves as cheerleader.

As a leader in football and all other sports, Johnny Blankney supports his school. The warmth of his personality makes him a true Southwest Rebel.



Janet Reynolds has earned the title of Favorite Finalist by her cheerful attitude and willingness to be of help. Her presence as a cheerleader makes everyone want to support our school.

Bart Tompkins, a real Rebel, is an avid supporter of all school activities. He participates in all sports and upholds school spirit with his keen wit and good sense of humor.

STUDENTS EXCEL IN DRAMA AND DEBATE

The drama department faced many obstacles this year in the production of Southwest's first play. The fact that we had no curtains in our auditorium until mid-April, and inadequate sound and lighting facilities hampered their efforts. Nevertheless, they turned up with a production that beat all school records.

"The Devil and Daniel Webster" starred Kay Brown, Gary Mathis, and John Winham along with the other members of the fifth period drama class. Richard McKinney was the technician for the play and John Winham served as stage manager.

Spirit is a key word. Here at Southwest it unites the student body and no matter where we are or what we do, it prevails. It manifests itself through athletics, not just football, but also basketball, track, golf and tennis. Our spirit at Southwest is mainly due to the games of physical and mental coordination . . .

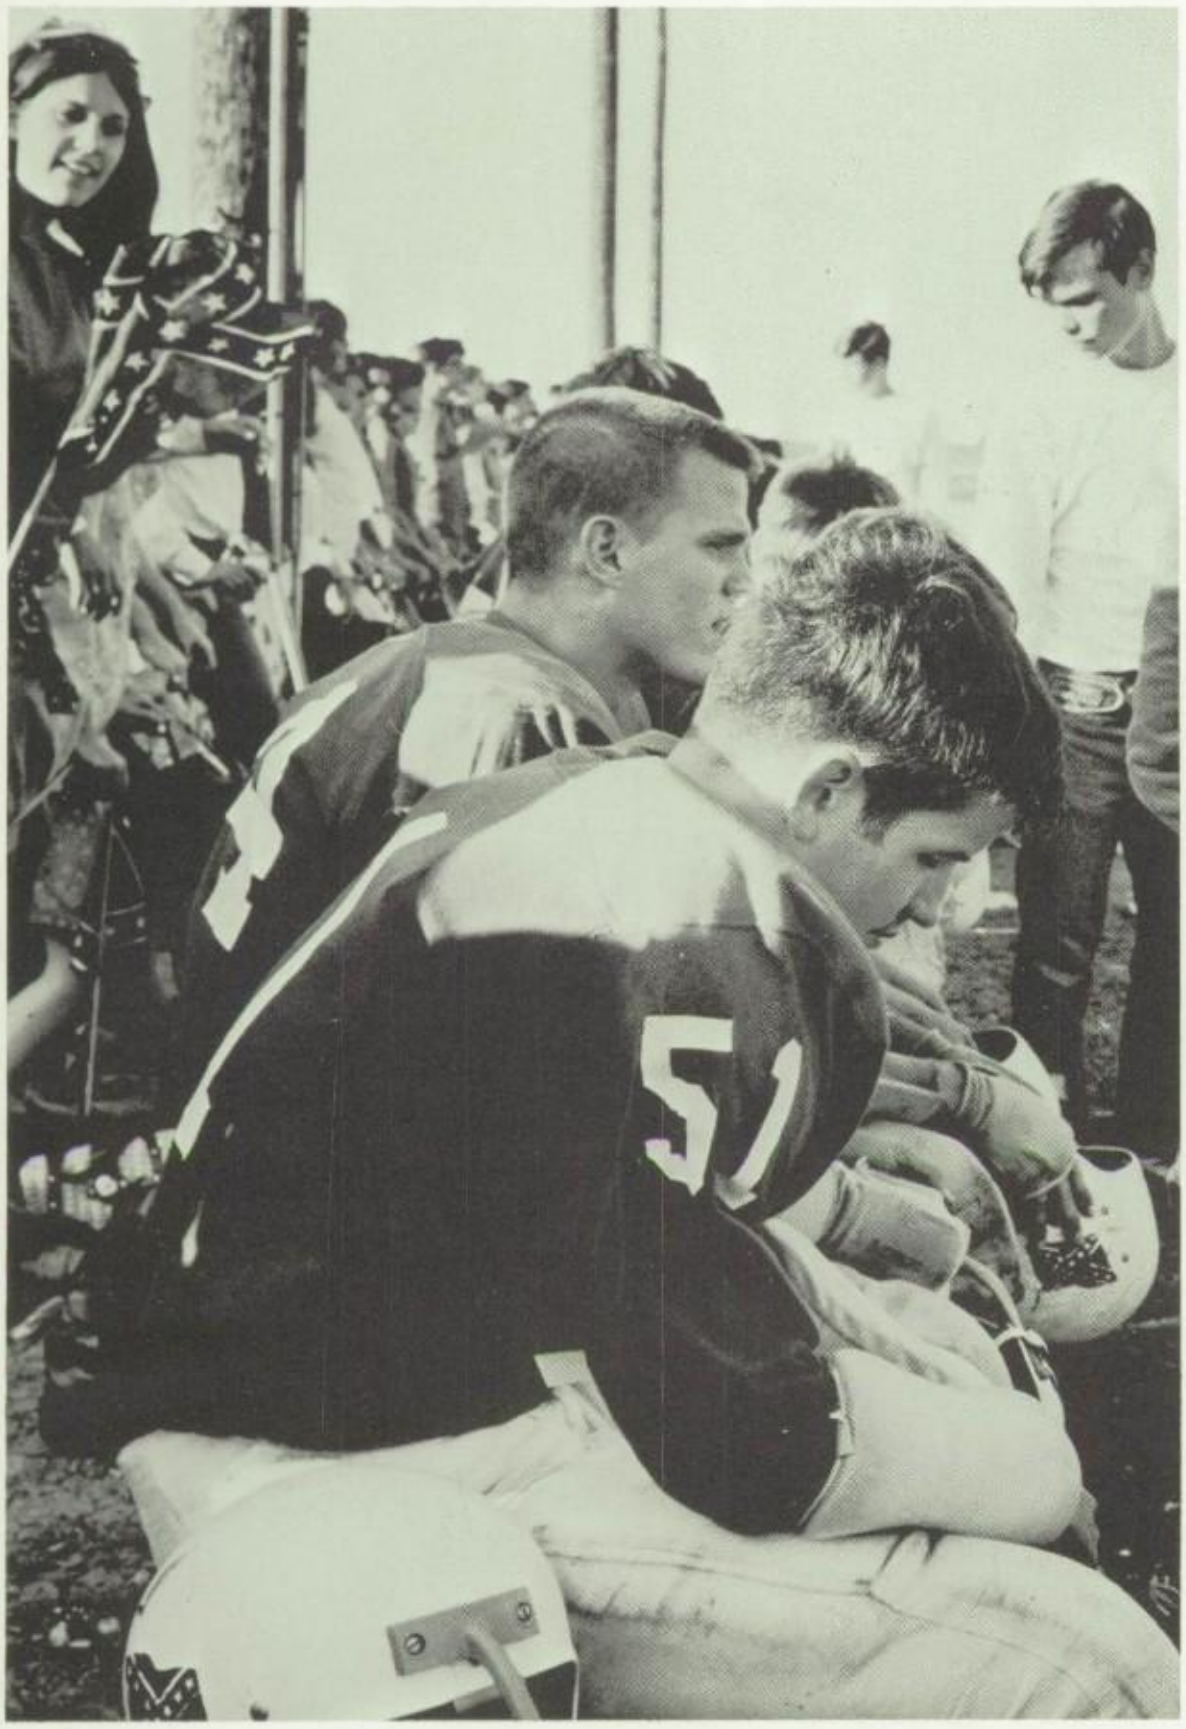
REBELS ENTER FIRST YEAR

Cheerleaders lead the team with much spirit to the hopes of victory.



We'll get it next time.

CARTER

With high hopes that another muddy game would bring the Rebels another victory, Southwest did their best to tie Carter 6-6. David Prater scored the Rebels only touchdown on a plung of ten yards after the Eagles had six points already on the scoreboard. Poor ball-handling and loss of footing because of rainy conditions, proved to be a deciding factor in the outcome of the game.

TECH

Going into the game with a 6-0 record, the Rebels were quite confident, maybe a little over confident as to who was to win the game. Tech scored first to make an early lead of 7-0. Before the first half was completed, David Prater drove across Tech's goal to make the tally 7-6. Being risky, Guy Carter tried a two point conversion which pulled us ahead 8-7. The edge remained good until Tech spoiled all hope of victory by boosting the final score to 14-8.

Trying for "City-Champion B-Team," the red and white of Southwest High School smashed Poly's Junior Varsity 19-6 and stomped Eastern Hills by the same lucky score.

Following a scoreless first half, Southwest High regained its spirit to skunk the I. M. Terrell Panthers 20-0. Mike Sanders showed evidence that he had the same spirit which helped the Rebels win their first two games, by scoring on a 78-yard run, one of the longest in Southwest's short athletic history in football. David Prater grabbed a pass from quarterback Bart Tomkins to boost the score to 14-0. Then Guy Carter put the Rebels out of reach on a tremendous pass play making the final score 20-0.

Mike Sanders goes in full gear for a 78-yard touchdown.

Gary Ellis makes great defensive charge to prevent further yardage.

NORTHSIDE

The "Little School on the Hill" proved it wasn't as little as everyone had thought. The Steers from Northside prevented the Rebels from scoring at all in the first half, and a good part of the third. Mike Sanders broke the montony by scoring twice on 60 and 40 yard runs. Guy Carter ended the romp by adding the final points of the games on a twenty yard pass play. Mike Sanders completed all three conversion attempts making the final score 21-0.

PASCHAL

Mike Sanders was being called "Golden Toe" after his extra point kicking provided the winning difference in Southwest's victory over Pascals' B team at Trinity Field. Sanders, besides his kicking chores, flew 75-yards for the Rebel's first touchdown. The others came of a 50-yard pass from Bart Tomkins to Guy Carter and a four-yard plung by David Prater, adding to the great record a 20-18 victory.

DUNBAR

For a while the mighty Rebels were doubtful as to whether they would keep their unblemished record of five wins and no losses (district play). Dunbar had 12 points on the scoreboard before Mike Sanders could break away on a 60-yard run for Southwest's first goal. The tally remained 12-6 for a long time until Dunbars strong offense stretched their lead to 18-6.

Mike Sanders didn't give up though and took their kickoff to the other end of the field to rack up another six points. On that runback Mike was injured and did not see action for the rest of the season. An 18-13 defeat is not shameful, but did not satisfy Guy Carter who added the winning edge of 19-18, over the Wildcats.

This year Southwest is unique in that we have no seniors. Because of this handicap, the Juniors have the double responsibility of being the leaders for two years in a row. The Sophomores also have a tremendous responsibility, that of helping to set traditions and standards for Southwest. Both groups work together and make up our . . .

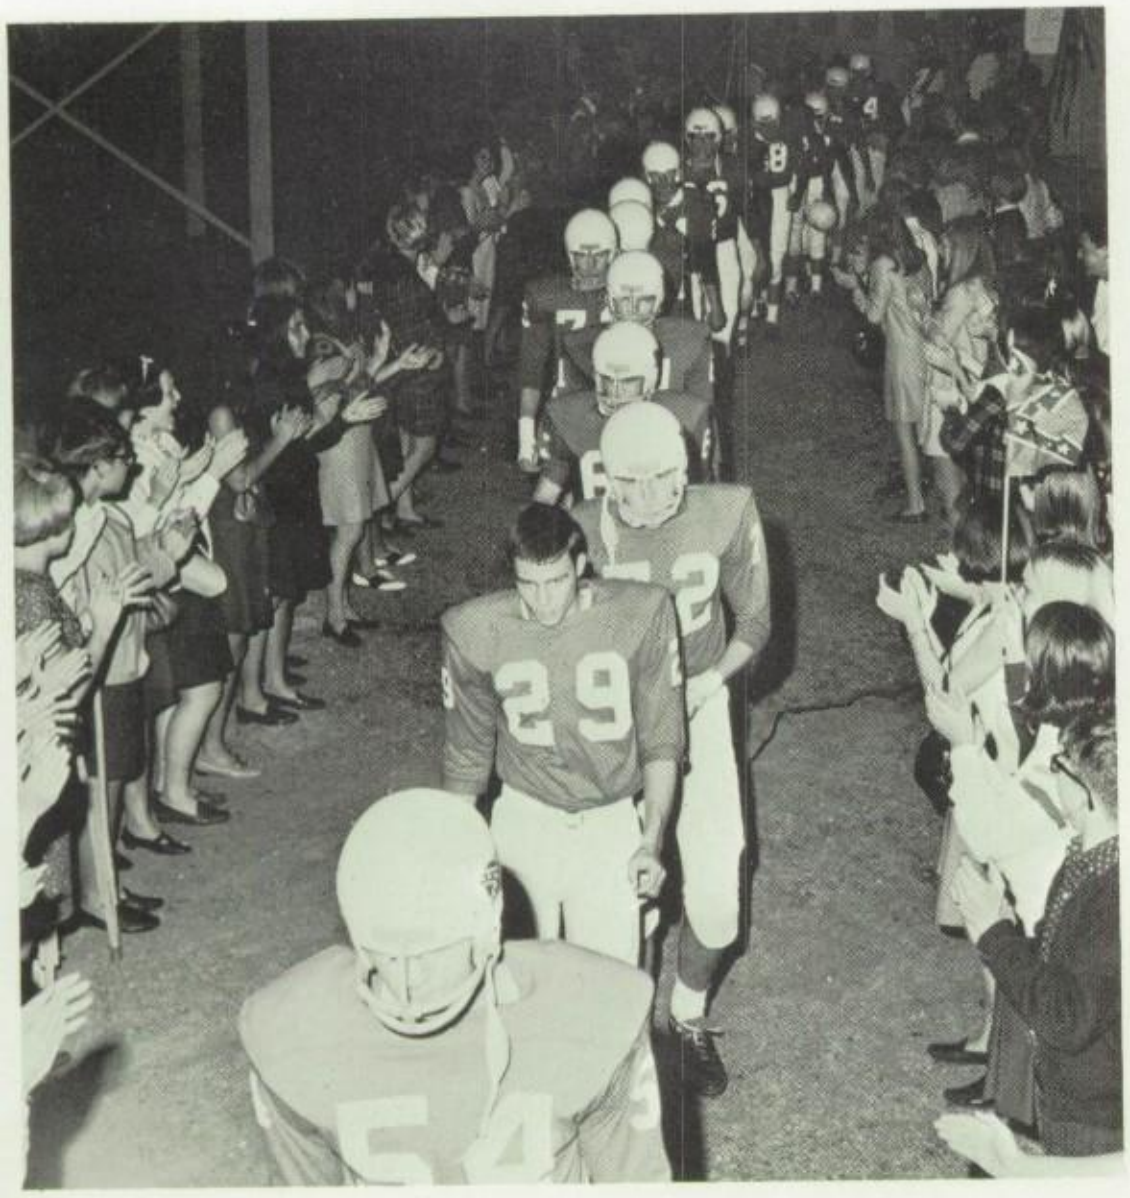
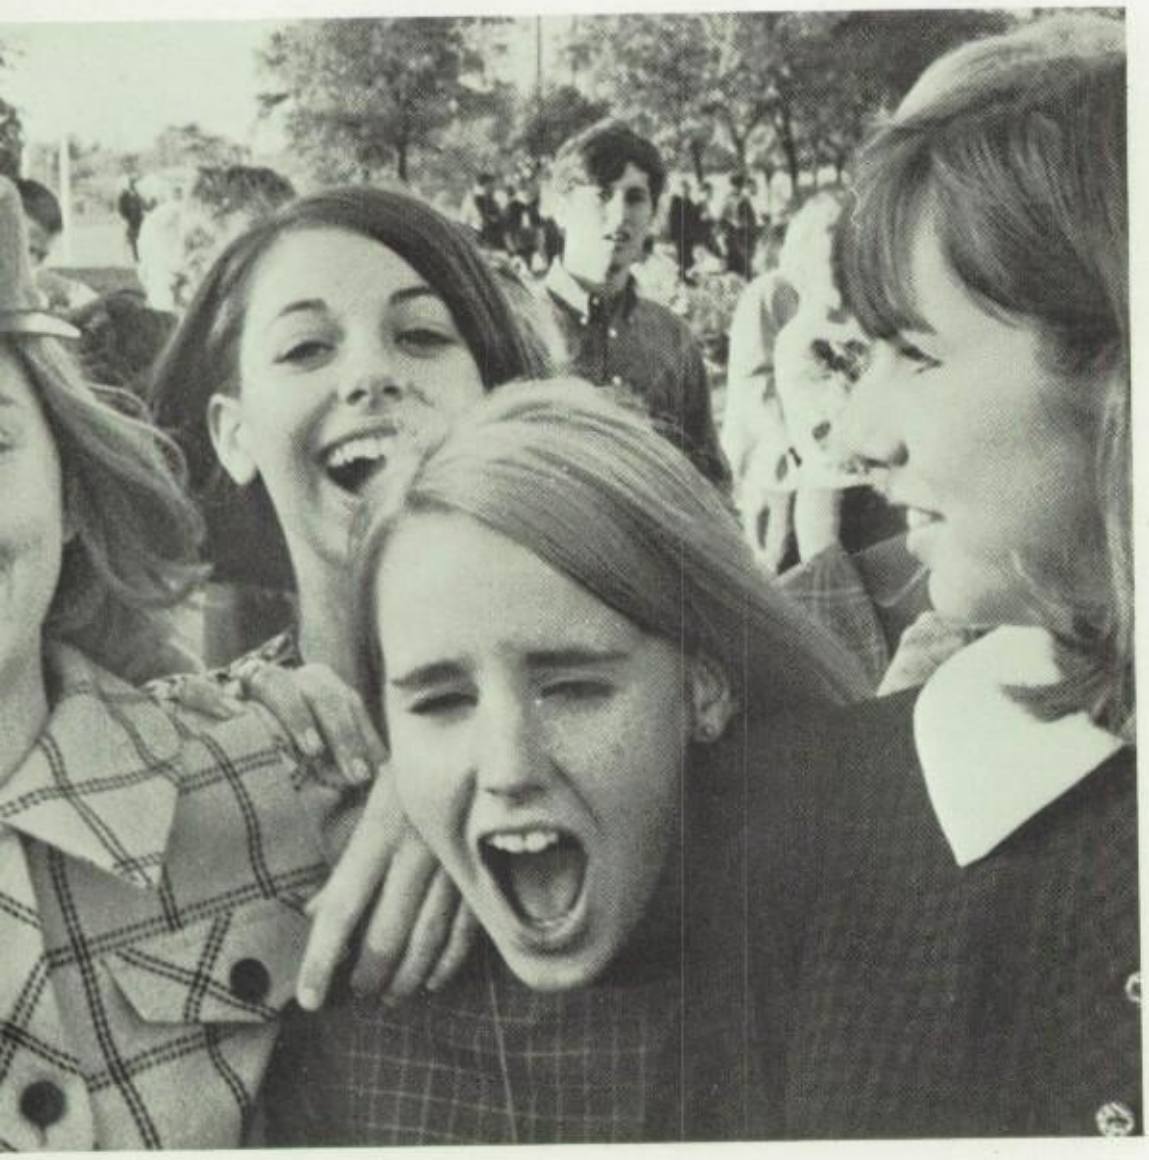
OW DO YOU DESCRIBE SOUTHWEST HIGH SCHOOL?





The beginning? Every school must begin and Southwest High School was born in the minds and hearts of Fort Worth School members. A building was planned, a faculty and staff were selected, and student boundary lines were determined.

The challenge? Every new school must be more than beautiful plans. The plans became the challenge of the principal, the faculty, staff, and students as they worked to turn hopes into realities. The people of Southwest High School have met their challenge.

The problems? Every new school must face its problems in order to develop character and individual characteristics. Cramped quarters, limited facilities, shortages of teachers and staff, the mighty shadow of another great school, and the presence of only sophomores and juniors constituted obstacles to be overcome. And overcome, Southwest has!

The accomplishments? Every school must accomplish or it will die. Southwest has obtained a new building, fresh adventures in learning, the exciting beginning of a grand sports tradition, and the dramatic ignition of the fiery spirit of the Rebels! These things Southwest High has done in this its first year.

The future? Every school must live well now in order to have a future. Southwest High is well on its way to becoming one of Fort Worth's greatest schools. The future of Southwest will take care of itself by extending the present into tomorrow. This can be done by never letting the Rebel spirit of Southwest die. The Yee-Haw staff dedicates this annual to the spirit of Southwest.
